FAT ADMIRERS

NAAFA'S OFFICIAL POSITION:

The National Association to Advance Fat Acceptance believes that a preference for a fat partner is as valid as any other preference based on physical characteristics, such as a particular height, eye color, or hair color. NAAFA also asserts that individuals who are attracted to a fat partner should be able to pursue, date, and make a commitment to a person of their size preference without fear of societal ridicule. Further, NAAFA believes that in a society where at least 65% of the population is considered fat, a preference for a fat partner is normal and should be encouraged rather than discouraged. NAAFA condemns the ridiculing and disqualification of fat people as desirable sexual partners as blatant discrimination.

NAAFA ADVOCATES:

- That all media channels, including movies, television and print for children, adolescents, and adults include fat characters, who are normal, attractive, and sought after as love interests.
- That parents and schools teach that all individuals are worthy of love regardless of their size or the size of their preferred partner.
- That celebrities and public personalities who have or prefer fat partners acknowledge their preference to the public through media interviews.

NAAFA RESOLVES TO:

- Support the portrayal of fat men and women as romantic interests in movies, television, magazine articles, books, and other media.
- Educate the public to the fact that it is normal to be attracted to a fat partner.
- Challenge media's negative stereotypes towards fat people.
